

Dialog #1: Henry and James Meet

Henry: Hello there. My name is Henry.

James: Nice to meet you, Henry. My name is James.

H: Nice to meet you as well. I don't remember seeing you at church before.

J: Today is my first day.

H: Well, I'm glad you could join us. How are you today?

J: I'm doing just fine. How about yourself?

H: Fine, thank you.

J: So where do you live, Henry?

H: I live right here in Rochester, in the city. My house is on Emerson Street, right near Mount Read Boulevard. And you?

J: I live in Penfield.

H: Hmm... Isn't that pretty far from here?

J: It's not too bad, actually. It takes me about twenty minutes to get to this church from where I live. It's a very beautiful drive, too.

H: I'm sure it is, especially on a nice sunny day like today.

J: Yes, the weather certainly is beautiful today. Praise God for sunshine.

H: Agreed. Well, it was nice meeting you.

J: Same here. Good-bye.

H: Good-bye.
